

RMHS SUMMER READING 2025

Choose 1 of 11 choices for summer reading.

Books are available at RMHS Library, AHML, RML, & MPPL.

BOOK GENRES & SUMMARIES

Backfield Boys (Sports): Friends Jason and Tom are thrilled to be playing football at an elite boarding school. When their positions get switched, they suspect racism is at play.

The Glass Girl (Realistic Fiction): Bella is overwhelmed by life especially after her grandma's death and breakup with her boyfriend. Alcohol dulls the pressure until an out of control party lands Bella in the hospital.

Bitcoin Billionaires (Nonfiction): Tyler and Cameron Winklevoss fell out with Zuckerberg and then learned about cryptocurrency. In 2017, the brothers became the first bitcoin billionaires and this is the story of how they got there.

In the Wild Light (Realistic Fiction): Cash and Delaney have grown up surrounded by the opioid crisis. When Delaney lands them a scholarship to a boarding school, everything changes for the best friends.

The Reappearance of Rachel Price (Mystery): Bel's mom disappeared when she was a toddler. When her mom, Rachel, reappears, Bel isn't sure who to believe. Where was her mom for 16 years?

Spy x Family, Vol. 1 (Manga): For Twilight's latest mission, he must secure both a wife and child. Little does he know, his new wife is an assassin and the child he's adopted is a telepath.

Under the Heron's Light (Fantasy): Atlas and her cousins must travel to the Great Dismal Swamp to uncover deep family secrets, save their grandma, and address the history of racism. With magical realism, this book shows the strength that comes in knowing your family roots.

That's Not My Name (Mystery): A girl wakes up with no memory and when a man claims she's his daughter, the police believe him. Meanwhile, Drew's girlfriend has been missing for weeks, and the police are convinced he killed her.

Victory. Stand!: Raising My Fist for Justice (Sports Graphic Novel): In 1968, Tommie Smith, the gold medal winner in the 200-meter sprint, raised his black-gloved fist to protest racial injustice. His memoir details his childhood, training for the Olympics, and the hardships after his protest.

The Grace Year (Dystopian Fiction): Sixteen-year-old Tierney James is sent off to her grace year to rid herself of her powers. However, the greatest threat isn't the poachers or brutal elements, it's the other girls themselves.

Family Style (Memoir Graphic Novel): The Pham family flees Vietnam, struggles in a refugee camp in Thailand, and then settles in California. Along the way, food symbolizes their experiences and search for the American Dream.

The Reappearance of Rachel Price* by Holly Jackson

YA Mystery | Ebook & Audiobook on Sora

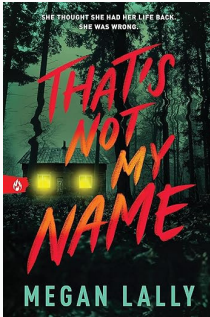

When her mom, Rachel, reappears, Bel isn't sure who to believe. Where was her mom for 16 years?

Under the Heron's Light* by Randi Pink

YA Fantasy | Ebook & Audiobook on Sora

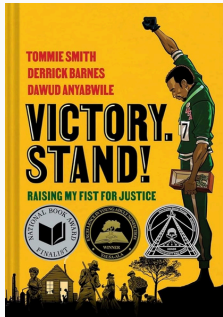

Atlas and her cousins must travel to the Great Dismal Swamp to uncover deep family secrets, save their grandma, and address the history of racism.

That's Not My Name* by Megan Lally

YA Mystery | Ebook & Audiobook on Sora | Available in Spanish

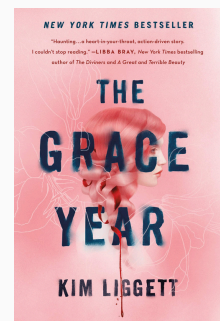

A girl wakes up with no memory; meanwhile, Drew's girlfriend has been missing for weeks, and the police are convinced he killed her.

Victory. Stand!: Raising My Fist for Justice* by Dawud Anyabwile, Derrick Barnes, and Tommie Smith

Sports Graphic Novel | Ebook & Audiobook on Sora

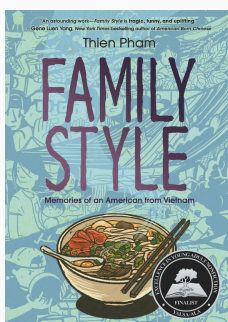

In 1968, Tommie Smith, the gold medal winner in the 200-meter sprint, raised his black-gloved fist to protest racial injustice.

The Grace Year* by Kim Liggett

YA Dystopian Fiction | Audiobook on Sora | Available in Spanish

Tierney James is sent off to her grace year to rid herself of her powers, but the biggest threat is the other girls.

Family Style* by Thien Pham

Memoir Graphic Novel | Ebook on Sora

The Pham family flees Vietnam, and along the way, food symbolizes their experiences and search for the American Dream.

SUMMER READING

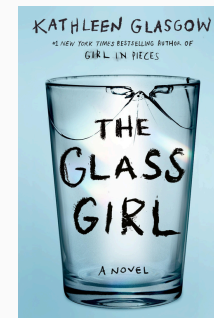

Choose 1 of 11 choices for summer reading.

Backfield Boys* by John Feinstein

YA Sports | Ebook & Audiobook on Sora

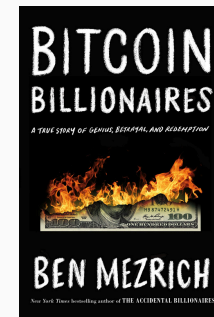

Friends Jason and Tom encounter racism while playing football at boarding school.

The Glass Girl* by Kathleen Glasgow

YA Realistic Fiction | Ebook & Audiobook on Sora

Alcohol dulls the pressure until an out of control party lands Bella in the hospital.

Bitcoin Billionaires* by Ben Mezrich

Nonfiction | Ebook & Audiobook on Sora

In 2017, Tyler and Cameron Winklevoss became the first bitcoin billionaires and this is the story of how they got there.

In the Wild Light* by Jeff Zentner

YA Realistic Fiction | Ebook & Audiobook on Sora

When Delaney lands a scholarship to a boarding school for her and Cash, everything changes for the best friends.

Spy x Family, Vol. 1* by Tatsuya Endo

Manga | Ebook on Sora | 1st Book in Series | Available in Russian

For Twilight's latest mission, he must secure a new wife who is an assassin and an adopted child who is a telepath.