When considering college options, try not to rule out any college simply because of cost. Upon completing the financial aid application process, the financial aid administrators at the colleges that you are considering will "package" all available financial aid options and send them to you for consideration.

Q: What does it cost?

The COST OF ATTENDANCE is an estimate of expenses usually incurred by students attending a college.

The EXPECTED FAMILY CONTRIBUTION (EFC) is derived from information reported on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). It is a family's expected ability over an academic year to absorb some of the educational costs. The financial aid office will use it to distribute need-based financial aid funds.

The difference between the Cost of Attendance and the Expected Family Contribution is the student's TOTAL FINANCIAL NEED.

Q: How is your financial need being met?

Students will receive FINANCIAL AID AWARD LETTERS – also referred to as OFFERS or PACKAGES – from the colleges. These letters will outline the aid that each college can offer and may include any or all of the financial aid programs listed here. It is recommended that students and parents review award letters carefully, ask questions, and meet deadlines.
